My SUMMED Piano Challenge

Attend a live music concert.

Write down the names of the instruments that you saw at the concert.

TEACH TWO OF YOUR FRIENDS HOW TO PLAY A PIECE FROM THE EASIEST PIANO BOOK YOU OWN. WRITE YOUR FRIENDS' NAMES BELOW AND THE PIECE TITLE YOU CHOSE.

Teach yourself how to play a piece from your book that you haven't learned yet. Surprise me at our next lesson together!

With your parents, purchase a new piece of music from your local music store or from an online music store that you are excited to learn how to play.

Put on a mini-concert for your parents. Create your own recital program on the computer and be sure to include a bio of yourself and to list at least 4 pieces that you will perform.

COMPOSE YOUR OWN SIMPLE PIECE.

IT CAN BE LONG OR SHORT, AND
YOU CAN WRITE IT DOWN OR SIMPLY
MEMORIZE IT. GIVE YOUR PIECE A
NAME AND PERFORM IT FOR ME AT OUR NEXT LESSON TOGETHER.

With your parents, listen to a piece of music on your computer by each of the following composers. Circle your favorites.

> Franz Liszt Ludwig Van Beethoven Robert Schumann Sergei Rachmaninoff

Interview your aunts, uncles, cousins and grandparents, and find out what instruments they know how to play. How many people in your family play an instrument?

Research how an acoustic piano works.

LISTEN TO PIANO
MUSIC WHILE YOU EAT YOUR BREAKFAST EVERY MORNING. MIX IT UP
AND INCLUDE JAZZ,
CLASSICAL, NEW AGE AND POP.

Practice the Piano every time you are wearing pajamas.

Find out how to safely clean your piano and give those keys a good scrubbing!

WATCH 4 "PIANO GUYS" VIDEOS ON YOUTUBE WITH YOUR PARENTS.

Listen to a bird's song and see if you can replicate it on the piano.

Give your piano a big hug when you return from a vacation or a long day away.

Play a duet with your brother or sister. Find one note that sounds good with a piece you are practicing and create a fun rhythm for that one note so he or she can play along with you.
