

Dear Mom,

You may be wondering why I am writing you a letter! Well, first off I wanted to tell you that you are _____. Spending time with you is better than a whole bowl of _____. You're as beautiful as _____ and you are the best at _____.

I like spending time with you so much that I have a special invitation for you: would you like to practice piano with me this week? I think it would be funny to teach you how to play _____ and _____. You could listen to me play my favorite piece _____ too.

Sometimes doing my piano practicing can be lonely, but, if you accept my invitation, piano practice this week will be totally _____!

Sincerely,
